

Love Letter from the Heart

By : SophiaGreen

This was a project i had in school it was to write a love letter so i wrote one to my memories from my heart. the teacher wouldn't take it cuz she said it wasn't what she had ask for, but all she asked for was a love letter.

Love Letter from the Heart

Dear Memories,

You go unseen yet hold such power over me.

I seem to run from you,

from the thought of having to face you,

from having to face what you'll show me,

from the fear of what i might feel if i see you agian.

Will you torture me with things from my past, or will you give me my most presious moments to come.

Even when i run i hope you will chase after me, untill i can find the corage to love you always.

Still my feelings go unchangeed,

so i think to myself of how i love what you make me relize, and the smiles that you bring.

love,

the heart
