Hackers (xOxOxOFcukM3xOxOx13 Challenge entry)

The wires in my veins were not a welcome feeling, but the lingering sensation was more pleasant than the actual injection. Anyway, the wires sat in my veins running through my body; I was a piece of hardware. I ran my hands through my silky hair, but they shook, i wasn't in full control.

Donâ t forgetâ ! who you areâ !

Who the hell am I? What the hell am I? I scratched my wrists, still uncomfortable and something caught my attention.

Dead dead dead!

The chants returned, the stupid half-memories, and fragments bug me.

***

â Theyâ re all going to be dead,â it was the girl again, â dead dead dead.â

â Who?â I asked frantically before the memory slipped away.

She turned to me, eyes wide and told me, â The cyborgs, the cyborgs!â

â Who are you?â I desperately wanted to know.

â Elora.â

â Eloraâ !?â

I wanted to ask more but fell over in pain, my stomach was bleeding like I was a gutted pig. I fell to my knees and Elora just looked down at me.

â Wish me luck,â she said again.

I saw her footsteps retreating, running in to some kind of pyre.

Why the hell does she need luck when I feel like Iâ m dying? Dylan, Ava, Chase, Derek, and now Eloraâ !were they my friends?...they are my friends! I rememberâ !damnâ !its fadingâ !have to hold onâ !

â Hey!â the woman who called herself my mother harshly intoned. â Stop lollygagging and pay attention!â

She had said something, but what?

â Do you understand what youâ re supposed to do?â she asked me

â No Iâ m sorry I wasnâ tâ !â

â Paying attention? You incompetent twit!â her open palm met the back of my head.

â Listen again, this is a testâ she began, this time making sure I was paying attention

â What do you want me to do?â

She explained to me that it would be a simple mission, she told me only certain oneâ s had to die.

â I wonâ t kill anyoneâ I vowed, â itâ s not right.â

â Thatâ s never stopped you beforeâ

â Ok,â I gave in, still looking for away to avoid this task, â who do I have to kill?â
