Lone Cat Girl - Summary

Lone Cat Girl I am a girl, 14years old, no family, no friends, no school and no normal-ness in my life. I live a complete unique and separate life to the everyday life of an average teenager. Teenagers listen to music; I listen to the cries of pain and hunger. They yearn for magazines and relationships. I yearn for revenge and fights. Blood spilling is normal for me; I find the cry of death entertaining. After a few years of endless hunger and loneliness, a dying sound of a person doesn't affect me. I am no ordinary, light headed, stuck up teenager. I am a weird, unusual, freaky, mutated teenager with a heart of stone and blades that come out my knuckles and shift into any form of creature present in the cat family. My parents death right before my eyes was frightening, but you have not seen frightening enough. I am Lex, a test tube baby, and the lone cat girl.
