And You Just Ain't Going Nowhere

Talk to me Sally

Your house is on fire

There's your car in the front yard

But it's got a flat tire

And you just ain't going nowhere

Except to climb back up those stairs

To die

Your husband he left you

All in a wreck

On his way to work

To claim his pay check

And you just ain't going nowhere

Except to climb back up those stairs

To die

They came and they took your children away

You couldn't raise them on your pay

A lamp shorted out and it fell to floor

You said to hell with it, can't take any more

And you just ain't going nowhere

Except to climb back up those stairs

To die

Jump to me Sally

While you still have the time

I'll take you, I need you

And You Just Ain't Going Nowhere

And You Just Ain't Going Nowhere

If you'll be mine

And you just ain't going nowhere

Except to look up at the stars

And fly

And you just ain't going nowhere

Except to look up at the stars

And fly

You and I

You and I

You and I

And You Just Ain't Going Nowhere
