

the final message

By : zombiequeen116

abigal is a girl 17 traveling with her brother josh and their friends Cristy and blake. to see their grandmother who just came out of acoma. but there trip takes an horrifying twist when aliens come and kidnap them and in the process killing josh and abigal has to escape but slowly she falls in love with one of the aliens who is also 17. and did i mention the aliens look just like humans. just like humans. she is torn while she's out hanging with alien-human things her friends are being starved and tortured. will she remember them or will she forget that they even exist. and slowly she is turning into one of them...an alien.

Published on Booksie

booksie.com/zombiequeen116

Copyright © zombiequeen116, 2014
Publish your writing on Booksie.com.

the final message

Table of Contents

the final message Chapter 1

the final message : Chapter 1

Prologue

We we're at the airport when it happened. It was so fast. All the blood. Josh's body all torn up. Me getting dragged away. It was horrible. I was screaming. Blake and Cristy were running. Run! Is what I was screaming. They were captured. Being drugged to get them to quiet. Cristy was crying. I was drenched. With blood. Josh's blood. They took me to a large area of plane grass. I heard a ripping sound and there it was. A space craft. These people aren't like us but they looked like us. I mean they looked human. This lead too me getting stripped and constructed on. They put something in my mind. To calm me down. To keep me at peace. To keep me from thinking they're not human. But that part didn't work. They brought me too their planet. To see how they live. Said I was chosen by the master. That we were chosen to help them. One who is lonely one who is gay one who is in love. We were to help them survive after they killed my brother!

the final message

Created from Booksie.com

Generated: 2014-07-24 02:42:34