

A Military Life I'm His Wife

By : Michelle D

Military life I'm his wife orders to go oh Hell No! I have done this before not once or twice, but three to four times its just not right. Struggling to hold the tears back with out a fight. What the hell I'm alone tonight! Miss you, wish to kiss you, hold you oh so tight but your out of sight. My soldier is gone and I'm here with a fight hope to survive for another night. Kids crying can I sleep with you tonight. So many things broken and smoking in the house. I need my soldier with me, which can not be, because he's not free. Fighting for our freedom which we can not see. What ever else can this be. Fighting for our freedom, for our Liberty.
