the lonesome Rambler the lonesome Rambler was a bad man as everybody knows he spent a 100 dollars on one simple suit of clothes he lost his dear loved one, one cold winters day now he just kill everybody-who get right in his way could have escaped- run for your life if you didnt shoot every body you meet leave your cart, your shovel and shoes to the ground beneath your feet fortheyre gonna hang your body up and set your spirit free carry on, lonesome Rambler, down the dusty road no chance now of loosin the hang, your just another dead load if the sherrif dont find your first youll be shot between the eyes for the wolf he howls, whistle screams,

and the lonesome Rambler dies
