Renegades

The power to change the world
In the eyes of every boy or girl
You could be a god, king
Or a queen
These words we write
Be them wrong or right
Our power, our vigor
These words are our liquor
Our ideas are drugs
Marijuana for the lugs
Itâs heroine for Edward now
The opium for Chairman Mao
We drop bombs, speaking grenades
We are the Renegades
The rebels
And our words dig like shovels
Into the hearts and minds
From the past and for future times
We are the change the world needs
You, him, her, me
Every soul has a purpose
Our reason on this earth is
To inspire with truth
This hazardous youth
Renegades

Renegades

To save without fame

This world we must tame

With our power at last shared

Our strengthâ becomes theirsâ
